“The Niche is being used a lot and Ollie (our main weekend barista) has really got the hang of it and said now that he has got used to it, it’s the easiest grinder to dial in! he really loves it. It is very sensitive and different beans need dialling in as required – but that is the job and when you have the hang of it its brilliant. I have used it for decaf and regular beans myself and apart from being fun to use, the grind is consistently good. It’s a work horse, its quiet, does not take up much space and looks amazing too! Every café should have one. I liked it in the beginning, but it’s really grown on all of us. Finally, container (grind cup) that fits in to the coffee holder (portafilter) is brilliant and saves a lot of time.”
